

For this question we used composite pattern.

Composite pattern allow us to compose objects into tree structures to represent part-whole hierarchies.

So that a manager can have many managers or assistants as its child. To draw the tree, we start processing from the CEO then all his child's, if one of his child is a manager we draw all the child's of the manager before finishing the CEO's childrens.